

Orana participates in 39 zoo-based breeding programmes, many of which are for endangered species, in partnership with the World Association of Zoos & Aquariums (WAZA), the Zoo & Aquarium Association (ZAA), the Department of Conservation (DOC) and others.

We are privileged to contribute to DOC recovery programmes for threatened native species, including South Island whio (blue duck), pāteke (brown teal), orange-fronted parakeet/kākāriki karaka, kiwi and Maud Island frogs. Orana funds all of this work through our visitor income and fundraising efforts. Orana has many highly technically skilled team members who are experienced in working with and breeding endangered NZ species.

An annual pass is the best value way to enjoy Orana and purchasing one helps the Park achieve its conservation aims.
